11.2. Characteristics of offered preferential subscription rights (PSR)

For the subscription of the new shares issued as part of the capital increase, the preferential subscription rights reserved for shareholders pursuant to the provisions of Article 189 of Law 17-95 on public limited companies, as amended and supplemented, will be maintained on the basis of one preferential subscription right for one existing share.

The holders of preferential subscription rights will be able to subscribe irreducibly for 31 new shares for 125 preferential subscription rights. The reference shareholder has waived 118 PSR.

Each shareholder may, if they so wish, individually waive their preferential subscription right.

Upon completion of the capital increase, subscription to the new shares is reserved for the company's shareholders and holders of preferential subscription rights. Consequently, they will have an irreducible subscription right on the new shares to be issued.

Shareholders will also have a right to subscribe on a reducible basis, with a view to the allocation of shares not absorbed by the exercise of the right to subscribe on an irreducible basis. This distribution will be made in proportion to their shares in the capital, within the limit of their demands and without allocation of a fraction.

The preferential subscription rights may only be exercised up to a number of preferential subscription rights allowing the subscription of a whole number of new shares. Holders of preferential subscription rights who do not hold, in respect of their irreducible subscription, a sufficient number of preferential subscription rights to obtain a whole number of new shares may purchase or sell preferential subscription rights at market conditions during the subscription period.

The preferential subscription rights forming fractional shares may be transferred or completed on the market during the subscription period.

The theoretical price of preferential subscription rights (PSR) is calculated as follows: PSR= (Closing price of the ADH share on the day before the date of detachment of the PSR - subscription price) * ([number of new shares] /[number of existing shares + number of new shares])

Procedures for exercising PSR

| Trading of PSR | The preferential subscription rights relating to this capital increase will be freely tradable on the Casablanca Stock Exchange under the same conditions as the ADH share itself, throughout the subscription period from December 19, 2019 to January 8, 2020 included. | | |
|------------------------------|---|--|--|
| Treatment of unexercised PSR | Shareholders' preferential subscription rights to the new shares issued must be exercised during the subscription period under penalty of forfeiture. | | |

H.3. Elements for assessing the offer price

II.3.1 Valuation of the securities offered

a. Valuation methods not used

The market comparables method

- ✓ The market comparables method is an analogous approach based on the company's profitability parameters.
- ✓ This method consists in applying to the target's financial aggregates, the multiples observed on a sample of publicly traded companies in the real estate sector.
- ✓ This method was not adopted given the current valuation levels and volumes traded on the stock market over the last 12 months in the real estate sector.

The comparable transactions method

- ✓ The transactional comparables method is based on the valuation of the company by reference to implicit valuation multiples of a sample of transactions in the same sector or relating to the company.
- ✓ In the case of Addoha, this method cannot be applied for the following reasons:
- Different transaction objectives (sale of a control block, consideration of other elements in the transaction, etc.);
- Different market context.

The discounted future cash flow method

- ✓ The method provides a dynamic view of enterprise value, since it is based on flow projections and takes into account the main factors that influence the activity, such as profitability trends, cyclicality, financial structure and intrinsic risk.
- ✓ Valuation using this method involves the steps of modelling future cash flows (based on the business plan), estimating normative cash flows, determining the weighted average cost of capital (WACC), determining the value of the business, and determining the value of equity.
- ✓ This method was not adopted due to the unavailability of the business plan. Especially since this method is more commonly applied in the case where a majority shareholder decides to sell a share of the company.

b. Valuation method used

The valuation method used is the average stock price method.

This method consists in retaining as the value of shareholders' equity the average market capitalization of the company over a given period.

The average price used is the weighted average price per share (WAP) over a period corresponding to the ratio of the volume traded (amount in dirhams) during this period and the quantity (number) of shares traded.

The WAP over a given period is multiplied by the number of shares of the company to obtain the value of its equity.

An analysis of the weighted average share price over several horizons ranging from 1 month to 12 months was carried out and the average price over 6 months was used.

The evolution of the WAP and the multiples induced over the last 12 months can be summarized as follows:

| Period | Start date | End date | WAP (MAD) | Volume (inn MMAD) | Volume (quantity in thousands) |
|-----------|------------|------------|--------------|----------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 month | 09/23/2019 | 10/22/2019 | 9.4 | 17.8 | 1 895 |
| 3 months | 07/23/2019 | 10/22/2019 | 9.5 | 34.6 | 3 632 |
| 6 months | 04/23/2019 | 10/22/2019 | 10.0 | 89.8 | 9 006 |
| 12 months | 10/23/2018 | 10/22/2019 | 13.3 | 529.9 | 39 973 |

The closing price on December 4, 2019 was MAD 7.85

II.3.2 Price of securities offered

In accordance with the powers granted to it by the Extraordinary General Meeting of September 12, 2019, the Board of Directors, at its meeting of November 15, 2019, set the subscription price of the new shares at MAD10 per share, corresponding to the nominal value of the shares.

II.3.3 Elements for assessing the price of the offer

Over the past 12 months, the value of the ADH security has changed as follow:

Source: Casablanca Stock Exchange as of 10/22/2019

The evolution of the WAP and the multiples induced over the last 12 months can be summarized as follows:

| Period | Start date | End date | WAP (MAD) | Induced market capitalization (MMAD) |
|-----------|-------------|------------|--------------|--|
| 1 month | 09/23/2019 | 10/22/2019 | 9.4 | 3 025.3 |
| 3 months | 07/23//2019 | 10/22/2019 | 9.5 | 3 074.0 |
| 6 months | 04/23/2019 | 10/22/2019 | 10.0 | 3 217.0 |
| 12 months | 10/23/2018 | 10/22/2019 | 13.3 | 4 276.3 |

Source: Casablanca Stock Exchange as of 10/22/2019

The price of the securities offered corresponds to the WAP of Addoha security over the last 6 months. It represents a 5% premium over the 3 months WAP and a premium of 27% compared to the closing price on December 4, 2019.

The multiples induced by the price of the securities offered are as follows:

| Price of securities offered (in MAD) | Induced market capitalization (MMAD) | Induced EV/EBITDA* | Induced PE |
|---|--------------------------------------|--------------------|------------|
| 10.0 | 3 225.6 | 13.5 | 8.6 |

11.4. Risk factors related to the financial instruments offered

II.4.1 Risk of investment value loss

The investor - shareholder in the Addoha security, like any shareholder in a company (listed or unlisted) incurs a risk of loss of a part (or even all) of their investment. This is a risk inherent to their position as a shareholder, if the price trend is not favorable.

II.4.2 Market price volatility

As Addoha shares are listed on the Casablanca Stock Exchange, they comply with the rules of supply and demand to determine the share value. Share prices are largely determined by investors' expectations of future earnings prospects for listed companies. Thus, depending on the appreciation of the share by investors, it may undergo significant fluctuations depending on various parameters (announcements, income releases, prospects, development strategy, etc.). As a result, the investor may see their security depreciate or appreciate on the Moroccan stock market.

II.4.3 Liquidity of the security

Subscribers to Addoha Group shares may be subject to stock market liquidity risk. Indeed, depending on market conditions and the selling price, the liquidity of the security may be temporarily affected. A shareholder wishing to sell their stake in the Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha quickly could, under certain conditions, not be able to carry out the transfer under optimal conditions.

However, the ADH value shows a certain dynamism in the liquidity of the share with an average daily trading volume of 74,427 shares over the last 6 months (from 04/23/2019 to 10/22/2019).

II.4.4 Risks related to PSR

In the event of non-participation in the operation, holders of PSR who have not exercised their PSR run the risk of dilution.

In addition, holders of PSR also incur a risk of loss of value of the PSR at the end of the subscription period.

Finally, holders of PSR incur a risk relating to the subscription parity. Indeed, they may not be able to acquire a sufficient number of PSR to obtain the required parity.

III. Framework of the Operation

III.I. General framework

The Board of Directors, meeting on August 7, 2019, decided to seek the authorization of the Extraordinary General Meeting to deliberate on:

- An increase in the share capital of a maximum amount of MAD 800,000,000 by way of a contribution in cash and/or by offsetting liquid payable debts, certain and due against the company;
- The terms and conditions of the capital increase;
- The delegation of authority to the Board of Directors to carry out the share capital increase.

The Extraordinary General Assembly held on September 12, 2019 adopted the following resolutions:

First resolution: The General Meeting, after having heard the report of the Board of Directors, noting that the share capital is fully paid up, has decided to increase the share capital by a maximum amount of MAD 800,000,000, including the issue premium, by issuing new shares, to be paid up by contributions in cash and/or by offsetting liquid payable debts, certain and due against the company.

Second resolution:

- ✓ The General Meeting decided, pursuant to the provisions of Article 189 of Law 17-95 relating to Limited Companies as amended and supplemented, that the subscription to the new shares to be issued in respect of the capital increase decided by the first resolution, is reserved in preference to the company's shareholders at the time of the completion of this increase. They will therefore have an irreducible subscription right on the new shares to be issued.
- ✓ They will also have a reducible subscription right, in order to allocate the shares not absorbed by the exercise of the irreducible subscription right, which allocation will be made in proportion to the number of old shares or related rights held by the subscribers, within the limit of their requests and without allocation of fractions.
- ✓ If the subscriptions on an irreducible and reducible basis have not absorbed the entire capital increase, the amount of the increase may be limited to the amount of subscriptions received.

Third resolution:

- ✓ The General Meeting delegates to the Board of Directors the necessary powers to carry out this capital increase on one or more occasions, to set the terms and conditions, to record its completion and to amend the Articles of Association accordingly.
- ✓ The Board will therefore have full powers to decide and carry out the acts and formalities necessary for this capital increase, in particular to set the issue price of the new shares, to take all measures to ensure the subscription of all available shares on an irreducible and, where applicable, reducible basis, to collect subscriptions, to make and sign the subscription and payment declaration provided for by law and to amend the Articles of Association strictly in respect of this capital increase.

The Board of Directors' meeting held on November 15, 2019 set the terms and conditions of the capital increase for an amount of MAD 799,941,360, corresponding to 79,994,136 shares, at a subscription price of MAD 10 per share, equivalent to the nominal value of the shares, offering an issue premium of MAD 0. The subscription parity is 31 new shares for 125 PSR. The Board of Directors' meeting held on December 4 set the dividend entitlement date as of January 1, 2020.

The closing of the partners' current account debts belonging to Mr. Anas Sefrioui has been certified by the auditors. It amounts MAD 1,168,644,160.73 as of November 15, 2019.

III.2. Objectives of the Operation

The current capital increase meets the following requirements:

- Provision of immediate liquidity;
- Strengthening of the capital structure;
- Investment in growth drivers, particularly in West Africa

The funds raised during the current capital increase through cash subscriptions will make it possible to finance the development of the company's growth drivers in Africa and accelerate the pace of production in Côte d'Ivoire, where demand and dynamics in the real estate sector are interesting.

III.3. Intentions to participate in the Operation

Mr. Anas Sefrioui, the majority shareholder holding 56.6% of Addoha Group's capital, is fully committed to participating in the operation in such a way as to maintain at least his current position in the company's capital by subscribing irreducibly, partly in cash and by offsetting receivables. In addition, Mr. Anas Sefrioui plans to subscribe also on a reducible basis. It should be noted that Mr. Anas Sefrioui holds a receivable in shareholders' current accounts of MAD 1,168,644,160.73 against the company.

In addition, certain executives may also participate in this operation as individual subscribers.

III.4. Investors involved in the Operation

The capital increase, subject of this prospectus, is reserved for Addoha Group shareholders and holders of preferential subscription rights.

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 189 of Law 17-95, the shareholders of the Addoha Group have a preferential right to subscribe for the new shares, in proportion to the number of shares they own. Thus, the latter will have an irreducible subscription right on the new shares to be issued.

Shareholders will also have a right to subscribe on a reducible basis, in the event that certain shareholders do not subscribe to the shares to which they were irreducibly entitled. The allocation will be made in proportion to the shareholders' share in the share capital, within the limit of their requests and without allocation of fractions.

Shareholders wishing to participate in this operation must submit to the subscription order collectors from December 19, 2019 to January 8, 2020 included, a subscription form in accordance with the model made available to them and attached to this Securities Note.

Subscription forms may be revoked at any time until the end of the subscription period.

III.5. Impacts of the Operation

III.5.1 Impact on Addoha Group's shareholders' equity

In the event that the subscriptions absorb all of the capital increase covered by this Securities Note, the cash capital increase will impact Addoha Group shareholders' equity as follows:

| | Pre-operation situation (as of 12/31/2018) | Impact of the operation | Post-operation situation |
|------------------------------------|--|-------------------------|--------------------------|
| Number of shares | 322,557,118 | 79,994,136 | 402,551,254 |
| Share capital (MAD) | 3,225,571,180 | 799,941,360 | 4,025,512,540 |
| Shareholders' equity - Group share | 10,081,119,359 | 799,941,360 | 10,881,060,719 |
| Consolidated shareholders' equity | 11,146,854,611 | 799,941,360 | 11,946,795,971 |

Source: Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha

The impact of the operation on Addoha Group shareholders' equity is based on the assumption that subscriptions absorbed the entire capital increase.

III.5.2 Shareholding structure before and after the Operation

The table below shows the shareholding structure of Addoha Group before and after the capital increase operation, subject of this Securities Note, assuming that the Company's consolidated current shareholders participate in the operation on an irreducible basis.

| Shareholders | Pre-operation shareholding structure (as of 12/31/2018) | | Post-operation shareholding structure | |
| | Number of securities | % of Capital and voting rights | Number of securities | % of Capital and voting rights |

PSR attached to the shares owned by Addoha Group will not be exercised by the company in accordance with the provisions of Article 279 of the Limited Liability Companies Act. The company undertakes to offer for sale these rights on the market, with no obligation of result.

The Board of Directors' meeting of December 4, 2019 decided to propose to the next General Meeting the approval of a new share repurchase program.

III.5.3 Impact of the Operation on governance

This operation has no impact on Addoha Group's governance.

III.5.4 Impact of the Operation on indebtedness

For the part of the operation by cash contribution, the capital increase allows a reduction of the Addoha Group's Gearing.

On the other hand, for the possible part of the operation by offsetting against liquid and due receivables, it will lead to a reduction in the Group's debt.

III.5.5 Impact of the Operation on the Addoha Group's strategic orientations and prospects

The capital increase will enable Addoha Group to support its current strategy of (1) restoring its balance sheet, (ii) consolidating its equity capital and (iii) investing in its growth drivers, particularly in West Africa.

III.6. Expenses related to the Operation

The operation costs to be borne by the issuer are estimated at approximately [0.6%] excluding tax of the operation amount. The nature of these costs is detailed below:

- · Legal fees;
- · Legal advisor;
- · Commission to be paid to the Moroccan Capital Market Authority;
- · Central Custodian, Maroclear;
- The Casablanca Stock Exchange;
- Brokerage fees;
- · Etc.

IV.3. Subscription terms and conditions

IV.3.1 Subscription period

Subscription to the capital increase, subject of this Securities Note, will be open to the centralizing body and order collector BMCE Bank of Africa, the central body, as well as to all account holders during the subscription period which will run from December 19, 2019 to January 8, 2020 included.

The operation will be carried out by the subscribers by submitting a subscription form in accordance with the model made available to them and attached to the Securities Note, duly signed by the subscriber or their agent and time-stamped by the subscription order collector.

The current shareholders of Addoha Group and the holders of PSR will have to contact their account keepers (account keeper banks and brokerage firms) directly to subscribe to the operation.

IV.3.2 Identification of subscribers

Subscription order collectors, in the context of this capital increase operation, must ensure, before accepting the subscription, that the subscriber is the holder of Addoha PSR, and that the latter are sufficient to cover their subscription.

To this end, they must obtain a copy of the document attesting to this identification and attach it to the subscription form.

Subscription order collectors must also obtain the documents justifying the subscriber's belonging to one of the categories described below.

| Category of investors | Document to be attached |
|--|---|
| Resident Moroccan natural persons | Photocopy of the national identity card |
| Moroccan natural persons residing abroad | Photocopy of the national identity card |

| Resident and non-Moroccan natural persons | Photocopy of the residency card |

| Legal entities under Moroccan law (excluding UCITS) | Photocopy of the commercial register |
| Legal persons under foreign law | Any document authentic in the country of origin attesting to the belonging to the category or any other means deemed acceptable by the order collector |
| UCITS under Moroccan law | Photocopy of the approval decision attesting that it belongs to this category. - For Mutual Funds, the number of the certificate of deposit at the court registry; - For Investment companies with variable capital (SICAVs), the number of the commercial register. |
| Qualified investors under Moroccan law (excluding UCITS) | Photocopy of the authorization decision and photocopy of the commercial register including the corporate purpose showing the subscriber's belonging to this category |
| Authorized investment institutions under foreign law | Photocopy of the articles of association or any authentic document in the country of origin and photocopy of the approval decision issued by the competent authority |
| Banks under Moroccan law | Model of the entry in the commercial register including the corporate purpose showing the subscriber's belonging to this category |
| Moroccan associations | Photocopy of the Articles of Association and photocopy of the receipt of the file deposit |
| Minor child | Photocopy of the page of the family record book attesting to the child's date of birth |

All subscriptions that do not comply with the above-mentioned identification conditions will be null and void. Subscription orders are irrevocable after the end of the subscription period.

IV.3.3 Account opening

Subscription operations are recorded in a securities and cash account in the name of the subscriber.

In addition to the conditions relating to the identification and creation of a file per client, subscribers will have to sign an agreement to open "securities/cash" accounts with an account holder.

Account openings can only be made by the subscriber themselves. It is strictly forbidden to open an account by proxy.

A power of attorney for a subscription may under no circumstances allow the opening of an account for the principal,

Account openings for minor children can only be made by the minor's legal representative (father or mother or guardian).

For minor children, subscriptions can be registered either on their account or on that of the legal representative (father or mother or guardian).

Account openings for persons over the age of majority can only be made by the legal representative (father or mother or guardian).

In this sense, account keepers require any document justifying the incapacity of the incapable adult whose subscription has been made by their legal representative.

IV.3.4 Subscription on behalf of third parties

Subscriptions on behalf of third parties are authorized but within the following limits:

- Subscriptions on behalf of third parties are accepted on condition that the subscriber submits a power of attorney duly signed and authenticated by their principal delimiting exactly the scope of the power of attorney (power of attorney on all types of securities and cash movements on the account, or specific power of attorney for subscription to the Addoha Group's capital increase operation). The subscription order collector is required, if they do not already have this copy, to obtain one and attach it to the subscription form.
- The agent must specify the references of the principal's securities and cash accounts, in which the movements in securities or cash related to the ADH shares, subject of the operation, will be recorded respectively;
- Subscriptions on behalf of minor children whose age is below or equal to 18 years old are authorized on condition that they are made by the father, mother, guardian or legal representative of the minor child. The subscription order collector is required, if they do not already have one, to obtain a copy of the page of the family record book showing the date of birth of the minor child. In this case, the movements are recorded either on an account opened in the name of the minor child, or on the securities or cash account opened in the name of the father, mother, tutor or legal representative;
- In the case of a portfolio management mandate, the manager may only subscribe on behalf of the client whose portfolio they manage by presenting a power of attorney duly signed and authenticated by their principal. Management companies are exempt from presenting these documents for the UCITS they manage.

IV.3.5 Subscription and order processing procedures

The subscription must be made with the custodian of the securities or PSR to be exercised.

The said account holders will immediately block the PSR corresponding to the subscription. All subscriptions will be made in cash and/or by conversion of receivables, the new shares will be reserved on a preferential and irreducible basis for holders of PSR at the rate of 31 new shares for 125 PSR.

The new shares will be reserved on a preferential and irreducible basis for holders of ADH shares and PSR holders. The subscription forms will be signed by the subscriber or his representative and time-stamped by the subscription collecting body.

Pursuant to the provisions of the last paragraph of Article 189 of Act No. 17-95 of August 30, 1996 on limited companies, as amended and supplemented, subscription to the new shares is reserved for the company's shareholders and holders of preferential subscription rights at the time the capital increase is completed. They will therefore have an irreducible subscription right on the new shares to be issued.

The company's shareholders will also have a subscription right on a reducible basis, with a view to allocating the shares not absorbed by the exercise of the subscription right on an irreducible basis. This distribution will be made pro rata to their share in the capital, within the limit of their requests and without allocation of fractions.

Subscription, like shareholders, is possible by purchasing subscription rights on the market. These subscription rights will be offered for sale by shareholders who do not wish to subscribe or wish to subscribe partially to the capital increase. They will be listed throughout the subscription period. Purchases and sales of PSR may be made through an approved intermediary (brokerage firm).

Subscription order collectors must ensure, prior to the acceptance of a subscription, that the subscriber has the financial capacity to honor his commitments. They are required to accept subscription orders from any person authorized to participate in the operation on condition that the said person provides the necessary financial guarantees.

In the event that the subscriptions received, both irreducible and reducible, do not absorb the entire capital increase, the Board of Directors may limit the amount of the capital increase to the amount of subscriptions received. In the case of a subscription by set-off of a receivable, the account holder of the securities/PSR must ensure, before accepting the subscription, the existence of the liquid and due receivable held by the subscriber by submitting the report of the auditors on the receivable to be converted.

IV.3.6 Procedure for exercising preferential subscription rights

For the exercise of their PSR, PSR holders must make a request exclusively to their account holders during the subscription period and pay the corresponding subscription price (plus stock exchange, brokerage and settlement fees including all taxes). The PSR must be exercised by their holder, under penalty of forfeiture, before the end of the subscription period. The account holder will immediately block the PSR corresponding to the subscription.

Pursuant to the provisions of Article I.2.25 of the AMMC circular², account holders are required, in the event of a proven risk of the PSR declining, to act in the best interests of shareholders, in the absence of instructions from them. On the other hand, account keepers will take into consideration the impact of the levying of commissions and taxes on sales transactions considering the price of the PSR.

On the eve of the closing of the subscription period, brokerage firms are required to communicate the list of outstanding sale orders for Addoha PSR to the account holders of the clients who have formulated these orders.

In addition, and in accordance with article I.2.27 of the AMMC circular³, orders for the transfer of rights must be transmitted to the brokerage firm through the account keepers. However, if the brokerage firm receives a transfer order directly from its client, it immediately informs the account holder of the said rights. Brokerage companies must not take, on the last day of validity of the subscription rights, transfer orders on the said rights which they do not ensure the conservation.

IV.3.7 Allocation procedures

Shares subscribed for on an irreducible basis will be allocated in proportion to the number of PSR held by each subscriber.

³ Consolidated circular published in October 2014

² Consolidated circular published in October 2014

Thus, in addition to subscriptions on an irreducible basis, shareholders may subscribe on a reducible basis. In this sense, shares issued and not subscribed for on an irreducible basis will be allocated to subscribers on a reducible basis within the limit of their request and in proportion to the shares held.

If the number of shares to be allocated on a reducible basis according to the above pro rata rule is not a whole number, this number of shares will be rounded down to the nearest unit. Fractional shares will be allocated in steps of one share per subscriber with priority given to the highest applications.

IV.3.8 Treatment of fractional shares

The PSR may only be exercised up to a number of PSR allowing the subscription of a whole number of new shares. The holders of preferential subscription rights will be able to subscribe irreducibly for 31 new shares for 125 preferential subscription rights. The reference shareholder has waived 118 PSR.

Holders of PSR who do not hold, in respect of their irreducible subscription, a sufficient number of PSR to obtain a whole number of new shares, must purchase or sell the necessary subscription rights during the subscription period at market conditions, during the subscription period.

IV.4. Procedures for Centralization, subscription coverage and registration of the operation

IV.4.1 Methods of centralizing subscription orders

BMCE Bank of Africa, as a centralizing body, will collect from authorized account holders all subscription forms completed and related to this operation.

Subscription forms and a detailed list of subscribers must be submitted to the centralizing agent no later than January 14, 2020.

Subscription forms and a detailed list of subscribers must be submitted in two phases:

- · The next day, concerning shareholders holding preferential subscription rights
- 3 days later for subscribers who have purchased preferential subscription rights not yet settled.

The account holders will have to transfer the subscription rights exercised on the centralization account of the operation in the name of BMCE Bank of Africa, opened with the Maroclear Central Depositary.

Account holders must transfer to BMCE Bank of Africa via SRBM, (i) the amounts of irreducible and reducible cash subscriptions, plus stock exchange and brokerage fees all taxes included and (ii) stock exchange and brokerage fees including all taxes relating to subscriptions by offsetting receivables.

No later than the fourth business day after the end of the subscription period, and as soon as the PSR purchased by the subscriber on the stock exchange during the last three days of the same period have been settled, the account holders collecting subscription orders must send BMCE Bank of Africa the corresponding subscription form, transfer the additional subscription rights to the centralization account at the level of Maroclear and transfer the corresponding subscription amount via SRBM, plus the stock exchange and brokerage fees including all taxes.

No later than two business days after the allocation, BMCE Bank of Africa will communicate (i) to the issuer the list of subscribers and the amounts subscribed, (ii) to the AMMC, (iii) to the Casablanca

Stock Exchange, (iv) to BMCE Capital Bourse and (v) to account holders the overall results of the operation.

IV.4.2 Methods of payment for subscriptions and book entries

All subscriptions will be made in cash and/or by conversion of receivables.

Cash subscriptions:

The payment of the amounts corresponding to the cash subscriptions to this operation must be made in cash (by remittance of a cheque or by debiting the subscriber's bank account opened on the books of his account holder) and paid to the centralizing agent on the fourth day after the closing date of the subscription period, i.e. January 14, 2020.

It should be noted that cheques must be presented for cashing before the validation of the subscription and before the end of the subscription period.

For PSR settled on the third day after the closing of subscriptions, the payment of the amounts corresponding to said subscriptions will be made on the same day, i.e. the fourth business day after the closing date of the subscription period, i.e. on 14 January 2020.

The amount of subscriptions must be equal to the subscribed amount plus the stock exchange commission (0.1% excluding tax of the subscribed amount), the brokerage commission (0.6% excluding tax of the subscribed amount) and the settlement / delivery commission (0.2% excluding tax of the subscribed amount). Commissions are invoiced by the account keepers. A VAT of 10% is applied in addition to the various commissions.

Stock exchange, brokerage and settlement fees will be invoiced by the account holders and must be paid by the subscribers (including 10% VAT). The amount of subscriptions plus stock exchange and brokerage fees must be paid by the account holders to the centralizing agent on the fourth business day after the end of the subscription period, i.e. January 14, 2020.

BMCE Bank of Africa, the centralizing and order-collecting body, will pay these amounts, after deduction of commissions, into a special account reserved for the operation, the subject of this Securities Note: "Addoha Group capital increase".

Subscriptions by offsetting receivables:

The receivable relating to the shareholder's current account held by Mr. Anas Sefrioui on the Company was settled at an amount of MAD 1,168,644,160.73 at 11/15/2019. The Company's Statutory Auditors have also issued a report certifying the accuracy of the said closing.

Subscription by offsetting liquid and due receivables will be collected by the account holders.

The centralizing agent must record the offsetting of the receivable by means of the subscription form and the auditors' report on the account closing on the receivables subject to conversion.

Stock exchange, brokerage and settlement fees are invoiced by the account holders and must be paid by the subscriber (including the corresponding 10% VAT). These fees must be paid by the account keepers to the centralizer on the fourth business day after the end of the subscription period, i.e. January 14, 2020.

The date of registration of the new shares in the account will correspond to the delivery date, i.e. January 23, 2020.

IV.4.3 Terms of delivery of securities

The delivery of shares, subject of this operation, will be made on January 23, 2020.

IV.4.4 Brokerage firm in charge of registering the operation

BMCE Capital Bourse is responsible for the registration of the operation on the Casablanca Stock Exchange. The registration of the operation on the stock exchange will take place on 23 January 2020.

The registration price corresponds to the subscription price as set within the framework of this operation, i.e. MAD 10 per share.

IV.4.5 Methods of publishing the results of the operation

The publication of the results will be carried out by the Casablanca Stock Exchange at the level of the listing bulletin on January 23, 2020.

Addoha Group will also publish the results of the operation in a Legal gazette and on its website on January 24, 2020

IV.4.6 Methods of returning the remainder

The cash remainders will be returned to subscribers on January 16, 2020.

Part IV: Risks

I. Issuer-related risks

Land risk

The soaring price of land is a risk noted in recent years because of population growth and the facilitation of access to credit. However, this risk is mitigated by the government's desire to create 15 new cities by 2020 that will provide additional land in urban areas, which will tend to dampen the surge in prices

The increase in land prices is likely to have a negative impact on the profit margin.

In response to this risk, Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha has adopted the following measures:

- Establishment of partnerships with public bodies under which the latter undertake to mobilize land and transfer it to the Company;
- Decision to extend its field of intervention through the implementation of several programs in Casablanca, but also in Tangier, Agadir, Marrakech, Rabat-Salé, Fez, Tamesna and several countries in Sub-Saharan Africa (Guinea, Côte d'Ivoire, Cameroon, Senegal and Chad);
- Diversification of its programs by also engaging in medium-standing housing projects not subject to a price cap by the Administration

It should also be noted that the public authorities are continuing their desire to extend the urban perimeter of several cities in the Kingdom, particularly in Casablanca.

Competitive risk

The absence of barriers to entry and the favorable profit prospects offered by the sector have had, and continue to have, the effect of attracting many operators to the real estate market. The multiplication of both national and international operators could have a double effect:

- · An erosion of margins, as a result of increasingly intense competition;
- An increase in the cost of land in certain areas where there is strong demand from property developers.

Demand reduction risk

A decrease in domestic or foreign demand (due to poor international conditions) would have a negative impact on the health of the sector in general, and on business volume.

In terms of the social housing deficit, the Ministry of Housing, in 2018, has set itself the objective of further reducing the imbalance to 200,000 units by 2021.

In addition, prior to the start of major real estate projects, Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha conducts a relevant market study upstream in order to ensure the commercial success of the project on the one hand and to choose an appropriate positioning on the other hand.

Finally, one of the key elements of the strategy adopted by Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha consists in favoring so-called liquid products in its portfolio, such as intermediate housing products, as part of a risk diversification strategy.

Risk related to the change in tax regimes

Notwithstanding the fact that the measures established by the 2010 Finance Law relating to the construction of social housing are guaranteed until 2020, the evolution of tax regulations could have a negative influence on the real estate market and consequently influence the financial situation of operators in the sector.

Risk related to prime contractors and suppliers

In order to provide its customers with a quality product, Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha solicits its historical partners to support it in the realization of all its projects. These partners are selected on the basis of their technical qualifications and references in the construction market in order to best meet the project specifications of the various DPGA subsidiaries in terms of both quality and turnaround times.

The trust relationship established between DPGA and its partners allows it to face the risk of unavailability of subcontractors due to competition.

Risk related to the increase in interest rates

A significant increase in lending rates applied to loans taken out by buyers would be a limiting factor for household housing demand.

This would therefore have a relatively significant potential impact on Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha's turnover and more particularly on the turnover generated by the economic housing segment.

To mitigate this risk, it should be noted that Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha systematically signs agreements with its banking partners so that future buyers of its products can benefit from loans at attractive rates.

This risk also impacts the Company's ability to borrow and pay interest. To meet these challenges, the Group has set up a rigorous monitoring of its outstanding financial debts, making it possible to anticipate payment of its future installments in an appropriate manner and to take appropriate measures accordingly.

Risk related to over-indebtedness

It should be noted that Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha launched the Cash Generation Plan in 2015, which aims to reduce the Group's overall debt and transform assets into cash, thereby reducing its exposure to this risk. The PAC 2020 (cash priority) takes over from the CGP with a strategy that remains in line with the previous plan.

Risk related to access to finance

The development of the Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha necessarily involves external financing needs. The Group is financed through its equity, credit lines and customer advances.

The difficulties experienced by the real estate sector and its impact on DPGA's business and financial position could have a negative impact on the Company's ability to continue to obtain financing on favorable terms, if these difficulties are not overcome.

II. Risks related to the proposed securities

Risk of investment value loss

The investor - shareholder in the Addoha security, like any shareholder in a company (listed or unlisted) incurs a risk of loss of a part (or even all) of their investment. This is a risk inherent to their position as a shareholder, if the price trend is not favorable.

Market price volatility

As Addoha shares are listed on the Casablanca Stock Exchange, they comply with the rules of supply and demand to determine the value of the listing. Share prices are largely determined by investors' expectations of future earnings prospects for listed companies. Thus, depending on the appreciation of the share by investors, it may undergo significant fluctuations depending on various parameters (announcements, income releases, prospects, development strategy, etc.). As a result, the investor may see their security depreciate or appreciate on the Moroccan stock market.

Liquidity of the security

Subscribers to Addoha Group shares may be subject to stock market liquidity risk. Indeed, depending on market conditions and the selling price, the liquidity of the security may be temporarily affected. A shareholder wishing to sell their stake in the Douja Promotion Groupe Addoha quickly could, under certain conditions, not be able to carry out the transfer under optimal conditions.

However, the ADH value shows a certain dynamism in the liquidity of the share with an average daily trading volume of 74,427 shares over the last 6 months (from 04/23/2019 to 10/22/2019).

Risks related to PSR

In the event of non-participation in the operation, holders of PSR who have not exercised their PSR run the risk of dilution.

In addition, holders of PSR also incur a risk of loss of value of the PSR at the end of the subscription period.

Finally, holders of PSR incur a risk relating to the subscription parity. Indeed, they may not be able to acquire a sufficient number of PSR to obtain the required parity.
